Subject: Missing / Stolen Car

Gentlemen,

I am contacting you to let you know that the 2006 Chevy Impala that Rob Delsman ordered was taken from the dealer in Fortuna, CA. Previously when I called about the car, the dealership said it had not yet arrived. So today when the license plates and registration arrived in the mail I called down to the dealership. The dealership said that the car was taken about a month ago, I asked who picked it up but they were unable to tell me and I asked if it could be stolen. They didn't know. I called the California Highway Patrol to report the car stolen and they told me to check with GE before filing a stolen car report. I called Scott Lafleur and spoke with him directly. Scott said he didn't know anything about the car and agreed that I should call the police and report the car stolen. I have called the police and filed a report on the car and we will follow up with the police at the dealership on Monday. Please let me know if we are going to be held responsible for the car being stolen? Rob is very worried about this and I am concerned for him.

Please let me know as soon as possible,

Kelli A. Delsman
